

ABSTRACT

The admission control algorithm implements measurement-based connection admission control using effective envelopes of an arriving traffic aggregate and the service curves of the corresponding departing traffic aggregate. The approach provides the statistical service guarantees to a variety of service classes. According to the admission control algorithm, arriving traffic is admitted if the sum of the effective envelopes of the arriving traffic entering a network and admitted traffic currently in the network is less than or equal to the service curve.